DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(4) because reference characters "4" and "4a" have both been used to designate front parts. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement-drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the examiner does not accept the changes, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

Claims 1-12 are objected to because of the following informalities: grammatical errors. There are numerous grammatical errors throughout the claims that do not hinder the interpretation of the claims, but do make it confusing more difficult to understand what is being claimed. For example claim 1 in lines 8 and 9: "wherein the implant includes, at least at said parts of the implant, with at least one growth-stimulating substance". This recitation is unclear and needs to be worded in a manner that is clearer. A second example is in claim 9 in lines 5 and 6: "the member is designed to effect at least one rotation movement". It is unclear if the applicant's recitation is requiring a rotation of the implant or that it affects something else that is rotating. Appropriate proof reading and correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) The invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 and 6-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by United States Patent 5,839,899 Robinson.

Art Unit: 3738

With reference to figures 7-17 Robinson discloses an implant 17 having a length and a rounded tip made from porous titanium. Robinson teaches that the implant can be anchored through mechanical screw means 23 and that the implant can be coated with a growth stimulating substance (4:54-61).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over United States Patent 5,839,899 Robinson in view of United States Patent 3,855,638 Pilliar.

Robinson discloses the invention substantially as claimed being described above. However, Robinson does not disclose the use of growth factors.

Pilliar teaches the use of a porous surgical prosthesis made from porous titanium that is coated with growth factors in the same field of endeavor for the purpose of encouraging bone ingrowth.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the drug coatings of Pilliar with the implant of Robinson in order to encourage faster bone growth.
